BLAST WRECKS OHIO STATE OFFICE BUILDING; 8 KILLED, 60 INJURED

PROBE THEORY OF BOMBING CAUSED BY LABOR TROUBLE

INVESTIGATION UNDER WAY BY GOVERNOR WHITE AND STATE COMMISSION

Columbus, O.—A disastrous explosion which wrecked the new $6,000,000 state office building, killing eight men and injuring nearly 60, was blamed Friday on bombs, gas or marble dust explosions as an official investigation got under way. The investigating body was headed by Governor George White and Colonel Carmel Thompson, chairman of the state office building commission.

Blame Labor Trouble
Thompson would not comment on possible causes of the blast. Other officials were inclined to the theory that it was due to a bombing resulting from labor troubles.

No odor of gas was apparent and no gas piping had been installed in the building, which was nearing completion. Marble dust, accumulated in the finishing of the stone work, would not have caused such a violent blast, they explained.

Three times during construction of the building, strikers interfered. The state construction board had insisted on the use of union labor.

The possibility that a bomb caused the explosion was expressed by Fire Chief L. Nice and Frank Henry, chief state marshal. On the basis of a report from Assistant Fire Chief C. W. Ogburn he detected a "sweet odor" when he first entered the shattered building and thought this odor might have been fumes of nitroglycerine.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, telegraphed to T. J. Donnelly, secretary of the local labor federation, urging union support for a thorough investigation.

The identified dead were listed as W. Bokken, of Detroit; Russel Neal, Edward Cheney, William D. Ryder, William Stephenson, C. P. Carter, all of Columbus, and Frank Baker, of Louisville, Ky.

125 Men at Work
Nearly 125 men were at work at the time of the blast. Eyewitnesses said the explosion was in the basement and that vast billows of smoke spread over the building immediately. Fire followed.

So violent was the blast that heavy slabs of marble were sent hurtling 300 feet. Bronze doors to the main entrance were torn from their fastenings. Steel window casings were wrenched from the castings.

The damage to the building was estimated at $1,000,000 or more.

N. Y. for Repeal of 18th Amendment

Albany, N. Y.—The democratic state committee Friday went on record for repeal of the 18th amendment.

Leaders said the resolution was approved so as to definitely place the state committee behind any movement in the national convention for adoption of a "wringing wet" plank.

UTILITIES UNIT OF INSULL SYSTEM IN RECEIVERSHIP

LARGEST RECEIVERSHIP EVER ORDERED IN AMERICAN BUSINESS HISTORY

BULLETIN

Chicago—Samuel Insull, whose Midas touch built the $2,500,000,000 Midwest Utilities company, and two other Chicago leading business leaders were appointed Friday as receivers for the company, the principal unit in Insull's vast utilities network.

United States District Judge Walter C. Lindley named Insull, Charles A. McCullough, chairman of the board of the John R. Thompson Restaurant chain, and Edward N. Hurley, president of the Hurley Manufacturing company and former U. S. Shipping board head.

Chicago—Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley declared the Midwest Utilities Co., $2,500,000,000 unit in the vast Samuel Insull financial system, irrevocable Friday but delayed naming three receivers.

It was the largest receivership ever ordered in American business history.

Samuel Insull, chairman of the board of the Midwest, Charles A. McCullough, chairman of the board of the John R. Thompson Restaurant Co., and Edward N. Hurley, former member of the U. S. Shipping board, were suggested as receivers by the company.

The suggestion was possible since the petition for receivership was a friendly action brought by the Lincoln Printing company, in which Insull is a large stockholder. The petition was based on a claim of but $8,000.

Judge Lindley, sitting for Judge James H. Wilkinson, before whom the petition was filed yesterday, said he would take under consideration naming the three men suggested as receivers. His decision, the judge said, might be made later today.

A bitter fight against the receivership was waged by a diminutive lawyer, W. A. Leopold, who said he represented "the owner of 100 shares of stock."

WAGNER ASKS SENATE COMMITTEE TO FAVOR PROHIBITION REPEAL

Washington—Senator Robert F. Wagner, Dem., N. Y., Friday urged a senate judiciary sub-committee to report favorably a 13-word amendment to the constitution which would say: "The eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States is hereby repealed."

Wagner, long an advocate of repeal, summarized his argument for repeal thusly: "We have observed liquor undermining our every effort to achieve real temperance; we have seen it enriching the gunman and racketeer and financing every unspeakable crime; and for a dozen years we have been helpless to defend ourselves. We are manacled to the 18th amendment."

Wagner said "reconstruction" after repeal of the 18th amendment should follow these lines: 1. The policy of state responsibility.

HEAD NATIONAL FARMERS UNION INDORSES MEASURE

REP. CONDON, DEMOCRAT DECLARES MEASURE WOULD BENEFIT ENTIRE NATION

Washington—The $2,000,000,000 cash bonus for veterans was endorsed before the house ways and means committee Friday by Rep. Condon, democrat, Rhode Island, as a measure which would "not only benefit the soldiers but the whole nation as well."

The Rhode Island member said that the legion convention at Detroit which went on record as opposing the bonus did not represent the true sentiment of the rank and file of veterans.

Rep. Cochran, democrat, Missouri followed Condon and urged favorable consideration of a bonus bill which would pay the veterans from a tax on legalized alcoholic beer.

The support of at least a portion of organized agriculture was thrown behind the bonus bill, when John Simpson, president of the national farmers union testified in its behalf.

"We must get a bigger crop of money in the country," he said. "This bill provides the best crop for years."

Simpson was loudly applauded. Chairman Crip lectured the spectators, telling them that decorum must be preserved.

WET PETITION OF 5 MILLION NAMES GIVEN CONGRESS

Washington—A petition of 5,000,000 names asking repeal of the Volstead act was presented to congress Friday by the congressional districts modification league.

Presentation was made on the capital steps in the presence of anti-prohibition leaders in both houses.

The small truck load of petitions was submitted by Lorraine Atlin Brower, Brooklyn, New York, a member of the advisory board. They were received by Rep. Mead, dem., N. Y.

The names, making up the largest list ever yet given congress, came from 319 congressional districts in 35 states.

After being received the lists were taken into the House lobby there to be ranged side by side with the 2,500,000 names contained in the soldier bonus petition recently presented.

The league plans to raise another 25,000,000 signatures. It contends that repeal of the Volstead act would throw liquor control back to the states.

GANG HEAD, AIDES FELL BY ENEMIES

Madison, Ill.—A gang leader and two of his henchmen were shot to death by machine gunners Friday. The body of Thomas E. (Tommy) Hayes, head of the Hayes gang, was found 20 feet from his wrecked automobile on a main street and the bodies of his two henchmen were found in another car near Venice, Ill., a few miles away.

In a futile attempt to protect their leader, William Conrad Wilbert and Harry L. (Pretty Boy) Lechler were shot to death in an automobile in which they were following Hayes.

GENERAL ECONOMY PLAN TO BE GIVEN HOUSE TUESDAY

PROGRAM DESIGNED TO SAVE MORE THAN 200 MILLION DOLLARS

Washington—A comprehensive program for economy in the federal government, estimated to save more than $200,000,000 will be brought before the house for action Tuesday, according to present plans of the Democratic leadership.

Speaker Garner said the entire program would be offered by the special house economy committee as an amendment to the legislative appropriations bill now under consideration by the house.

"The whole question of course depends upon the president getting his program up here in legislative shape," he said. "As it has been presented so far it was not in legislative form and it is rather hard to tell what it would do."

Garner said that it was hoped the president would transmit his complete scheme for government savings by this afternoon, thus giving the economy committee three full days for consideration.

CHILD SWALLOWS GAS TO SATISFY THIRST, RECOVERS

Thirsty, 21-month-old Dicky Caswell started drinking the closest liquid handy Friday morning. That liquid proved to be gasoline in a glass, caused the child severe throat and stomach burning and great concern to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caswell, 511 South 6th street.

The child was rushed to the St. Joseph's hospital where Dr. L. F. Hawkinson attended him. He was released from the hospital soon after, virtually recovered.

The child drank the gasoline in the rear room of the Gateway Electric store where his father is manager. Mistaking the gasoline for water, the child had taken three swallows before noticed.

CONTROVERSY ON HIGHWAY LETTING

St. Paul—A new controversy raged Friday over a group of highway department paving projects which has been a storm center before several Minnesota contractors threatened court action to block eight contracts recently awarded to Foley Bros., of St. Paul.

The bids for the group of projects were thrown out in December as too high and in the April letting of bids the St. Paul contracting firm obtained eight contracts.

Charges made by the contractors allege that Foley Bros. are not equipped to handle eight contracts, totaling $1,023,320.48.

That the state department of administration and finance in considering throwing out all the bids of the last allotment.

That although Foley Bros. were not qualified to bid on more than 15 miles of paving yet were awarded 110 miles.

NORFOLK MEN FOLLOW NEW LEAD IN SEARCH

Schall Describes Election Contest as Political Move

Washington—Senator Schall, republican, Minnesota, Friday described the election contest brought against him Thursday by Einar Holdale as "just another attempt on the part of my enemies to destroy my influence as a senator of the United States."

Schall issued a brief statement, his first since the contest was filed, as follows: "It is peculiar that this complaint was not filed until after I had made by speech on the floor of the United States senate in behalf of the farmer and against the grain gamblers who supported my opponent, Mr. Einar Holdale, who now brings this belated contest."

Harvard Honors State "Boy Pastor" Who Had Cal as Parishioner

Cambridge, Mass.—Rolf Lum, 23, who as "the boy pastor" had President Calvin Coolidge as a parishioner in South Dakota's Black Hills, has been awarded a fellowship by Harvard university as a medical student.

Awarded on a basis of scholastic excellence and originality of mind, these Lamson research fellowships carry cash gifts approximating $500 each.

Lum, whose home is Northfield, Minn., said today he was "just filling in for the summer" in the pulpit of the Congregational church at Hermosa, S. D., in 1933 when Mr. Coolidge on a presidential vacation in the Black Hills, attended Sunday services regularly. Even at that time, Lum explained, medicine was his goal.

DECLINES POST AS DELEGATE TO DEM NAT'L CONVENTION

ROOSEVELT SPURNS SELECTION AS ONE OF 16 DELEGATES AT LARGE

Albany, N. Y.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt will not go to the Chicago national Democratic convention as one of the 16 delegates at large to be selected here Friday, he has announced.

The decision was based, he said, on a sense of "political delicacy," citing the fact that he was an avowed candidate for the presidency.

Albany, N. Y.—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith and J. W. Davis Friday accepted designation to the New York delegation at large to the national convention.

Smith, who was former Governor Alfred E. Smith when the latter followed the same course in 1924 and 1928. Roosevelt, however, will be on the scene as Smith was in 1924.

Roosevelt's action in refusing to attend the convention as a delegate was interpreted in some quarters as a move to force Smith to stay off the convention floor for the same reasons as he advanced twice before.

No statement as to whether or not he would accept a place as delegate-at-large came from Smith.

LINDY PRAISES PRESS FOR WORK IN KIDNAPING CASE

NEGOTIATORS RETURN TO NORFOLK AFTER BEING ABSENT SEVERAL DAYS

Norfolk, Va.—New information has been received which leads three Norfolk investigators to believe that the kidnapped Lindbergh baby is still alive and well. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock said Friday.

The rector had just conferred with his two associates, John Hughes Curtis and Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, who returned Friday after being away on mysterious missions for several days. Neither has made a statement.

Dean Peacock reiterated that the Norfolk plans would not permit another ransom hear to be perpetrated against Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Reports circulated that some representative of Col. Lindbergh was in Norfolk to keep in communication with the three negotiators. Dean Peacock said the trio preferred not to answer questions on this report.

Hopewell, N. J.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, expressing the appreciation Mrs. Lindbergh and himself felt for the news co-operation given them in the 45-day hunt for their kidnapped son, have issued this statement:

"Mrs. Lindbergh and I want to express our great appreciation to those members of the press who in many instances have given us their co-operation, often to their own disadvantage."

"It is still of utmost importance for us and our representatives to move about without being questioned or followed, and we are again requesting the complete co-operation of all members of the press to this end."

HUSBAND ATTACK VICTIM TELLS JURY BRUTAL ASSAULT ON HIS YOUNG BRIDE

Courtroom, Honolulu—Judge and jury waited in a sultry courtroom Friday for a white-faced, shuddering young navy officer to unmask the honor slayer of Hawaiian Joe Kahahawai.

Only this final drama of the tragedy of his life remained to be told by it. Thomas Hedges Massie, a married man, related the stirring events culminating in Kahahawai's death and the murder trial of Massie, his society matron mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Bell Fortescue, and two seamen, Albert Orron Jones and Edward John Lord.

Like a gentle father, Clarence Darrow stemmed the 26-year-old Kenuckian's rising emotions which neared the breaking point.

Courtroom, Honolulu, T. H. Illness of Clarence Darrow, chief of defense counsel, today caused postponement of the trial of Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue and three navy men on charges of killing Joe Kahahawai young native.

Florida-faced John Kelley, who had just concluded the prosecution's circumstantial evidence, interrupted Darrow's questioning with a warning that he would object to bringing in the Ala Moana case unless insanity was to be the defense.

Darrow's face was an enigma as he answered "insanity will figure in the case—that is, for the one who shot the pistol."

she was a school girl of 16 and he a fledgling Annapolis man of 22. He abruptly shifted to a moonless night last September and the couple's decision to attend a dance at Waikiki Beach. The jury of seven Caucasians, three islanders and two Chinese leaned forward.

"When we were ready to leave for home I couldn't find Thalia," he said. His voice became hoarse. "I phoned home and she was there, please come home, something terrible has happened," she said.

"She collapsed in my arms at the door. Blood was streaming from her nose and mouth. Her lips were crushed and her eyes bruised."

Through the story of her abduction and mistreatment by the natives on Ala Moana road Massie led the jury—how Mrs. Massie's jaw was operated on and how she almost choked to death. When she was in the hospital she identified four islanders as her assailants, he said.

Massie left no doubt he considered Kahahawai one of the guilty. "She prayed for mercy but Kahahawai struck her," he continued. "He laughed as he did it. She told me of it a thousand times, and would cry, 'why didn't they kill me?'"

"One night Thalia began having hallucinations that Kahahawai was outside our house. Finally I heard the sounds myself."

The last blow to a tortured soul was the discovery of physicians that Mrs. Massie was to become a mother, Massie said.

"It was more than anything I could imagine," he cried, rising in his chair, almost sobbing in his anguish. "It was the thing I had feared."

"It had a strange effect on my mind."

TYDINGS TESTIFIES IN SENATE

Head of N. Y. Stock Exchange Denounces Hou Levy in Revenue bill on Stock Transfer.

Washington—Charges that "log rolling" vote trades brought an oil tariff into the billion dollar revenue bill in the house were made today by Sen. Tydings, Democrat, Maryland.

Tydings said the house vote and means committee consented to the oil tariff in exchange for a promise of 40 votes in support of the sales tax.

The house provision for a higher tax on stock transfers was brought up for renewed criticism by Richard Whitney, president of the New York stock exchange, who asserted that the proposed increased tax on stock sales would produce far less revenue than was estimated by the house.

On the basis of the new tax, Whitney said, the state actually received $175,000 less this March than a year ago.

"At a time when business makes no profits and farmers can not pay their taxes there should be no penalty assessed against all of us to favor an industry that is on the up grade," Tydings said in discussing the oil tariff.

The house estimate, $75,000,000 revenue from the one-fourth of one per cent tax on stock sales, based on 1931 aggregate sales of $22,110,000,000, Whitney said if the house expected so great a volume this year "it disregarded entirely the present trend of business."

Whitney said the present trend of business "is a downward one."

"The imposition of this new tax," he continued, "will reduce the volume of business."

"If by taxation," Whitney said, "the volume of trading is reduced so that we cannot retain the volume of trading necessary to keep the securities business liquid, then there would be the danger of closing with the possibility of a panic in front of."

Washington—An oil tariff of 2 1/2 cents a gallon and legalization of 2.75 per cent beer for revenue and temperance purposes were urged Friday upon the senate finance committee by M. J. Flynn in behalf of organized labor.

BURNS, DETECTIVE GENIUS, SUCCUMBS

Sarasota, Fla.—William J. Burns, whose "horse sense" detective methods solved coast-to-coast bomb outrages, counterfeiting plots, land swindles and election frauds, died Thursday night after a heart attack.

The 70-year-old man-tracker's death ended a career rivaling the most noted of fiction—but never included fictional methods. It was a career that included solution of these cases:

The Los Angeles Times-McNamar bomb plot.

The Philadelphia-Lancaster counterfeit plot.

Oregon—Washington—California land fraud cases in 1903.

San Francisco mint robbery with $30,000 loss.

Burns also figured in many other cases, the most sensational of which were the Leo Frank investigation in Georgia where he was once nearly lynched while gathering evidence to prove Frank innocent; the Terrot Dame investigation; the Herman Rosenthal murder in New York; and Atlantic City and Detroit municipal graft cases.

Until eight years ago, Burns was head of the bureau of investigation of the United States department of justice and had been in that position since 1922. Before that he headed the William J. Burns Detective association.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE OPEN FORUM

Editor of Daily Dispatch:
May I voice my sentiments in your columns on the great subject of the day "Optimism?"

During the past week, St. James, N. F., was the scene of mob disturbance by irate citizens in a demand for relief from pressure of the present economic depression.

Depressions as, at present, are certainly not desirable, still they have some saving quality: they tend to reestablish our sense of values, both as to ourselves and as to our community and associates. When things are easy the ordinary citizen and taxpayer is just another gnat with few questions asked; but when things start coming hard with very little work for the laborer and craftsman and with correspondingly low markets for manufactured and farm products, Mr. Ordinary Citizen begins to wonder what relation he has to the money he puts out and what becomes of it; result: various efforts at budget scraping and curtailment of expenditure.

Senator Robinson, Arkansas, speaking of governmental salaries, in line with their committees' effort to reduce expenses and balance the National budget said, "We have the courage to cut." Mr. Robinson, of course, is a shrewd politician who chooses his words carefully, he should have specified a little more will do along with the courage. Courage in a sense is often blind. There is no doubt but that our various governmental habits permeated with courage; for, in the face of present conditions, when industry, that supplies much of our tax revenue, is practically at a standstill and the farmer must put a second mortgage on his last cow or sell his hens to raise this tax ante, it certainly does take courage to stand up and accept full time salaries on an inflated war-time basis.

Early this year, a Taxpayers' Association was formed in Crow Wing county; at the organization meeting, we learned that most of the salaries of our county officials are governed by state law based on county valuation as established by the assessor and, therefore, such county expenses being fixed by an outside agency or association, were not subject to adjustment by local action other than volunteer, but by a combination whose interest it is to hold valuations at the highest possible figure and then proceed to control state expenditures to a certain per cent. of these inflated values by legislation of a higher tribunal and in turn control national and other state expenses governed by the total inflated expenditures of the states or the counties.

The above cycle continues endlessly in nearly all departments, and that explains why most budget adjustments have confined themselves to eliminating tiny details, leaving intact appalling systems of highly upward controlled expenditures in the vital interests, hoping that the depression will be only temporary and in some unexplainable manner be lifted and then the merry chase will be hilariously resumed.

If we ever expect to pull up from the present slump, we might as well make up our minds to start right in in our own home town, and others in their own home town, to rearrange this system of controlled expenditure; just lend a little will to do along with the courage and cut down deep where these vital demands on expenditure are centered; meaning, it is not the $100.00 that hurts, there, cutting out means more unemployment, but look deeply into the high salaried positions, and all other highly geared demands for expenditure.

During the period of this depression, there are few men in managerial positions whose constructive accomplishments in their field tend to prove them deserving of the high salaries they are drawing. As long as we, as a people allow the associations and parasitic combinations of a few greedy individuals in the upper brackets to control the efforts and destinies of the majority in the lower brackets, by all manner of control of our earnings, just so long will we remain in the mire in which we find ourselves today.

We need a serious and energetic administration, free of politics with the courage and will to do, to cut deeply into and eliminate these parasites and then we may hope to draw away from the ills that are now choking our every effort. We must find the will and the courage to call a halt before the walls of wholesale bankruptcy close in upon us and force the issue.

Returning to local conditions; just about the time of the formation of our taxpayers' association, the city council co-ordinated in reducing city expenses to the minimum, some departments not being directly under the council, voluntarily accepted a reduction.

The Water & Light Board, the county officials and other boards promised cooperation, but haven't found anything more of where any further definite action has been taken in that direction in those departments, and I am just wondering whether blind courage is still holding sway or whether I have been habitually nodding over my evening paper.

A MISTAKEN IDEA—

An article in a recent issue of the Yale Daily News remarked that politics is altogether too dirty a business for gentlemen to follow.

"The most serious of all menaces to American principles," wrote the undergraduate editor, "is the increasing disgust of educated young men for politics. Politics no longer is a decent profession."

Some allowance, of course, must be made for the pangs of disillusionment that come to all sophomores. When you are just beginning to grow up it is a trifle hard to retain a sunny optimism in the face of your dawning discovery that the world has an abundance of rogues and dolts in public office.

But there is something rather dismaying about this Yale editor's pronouncement, just the same. The dirtiness of politics may be a menace to American principles, as he says; much more serious a menace, however, can be found in the fact that we seem to be developing, at our more aristocratic colleges and universities, a body of young men who feel themselves much too good for the weary task of rolling up their sleeves and helping to set things right.

Politics is dirty, of course. One does not have to go to Yale to find that out. But its dirtiness will never in this world be remedied by educated young men who find it too messy to touch. The way to clean it up is to jump into it with both feet and go to work.

Of course, one young man by himself can't do much, no matter how hard he tries. But he can accomplish a lot more by pitching in and working than by sitting on the sidelines and pressing a scented handkerchief to his patrician nostrils. Even a student editor should be bale to see that.

Among other things, our colleges and universities are supposed to fit young men for leadership; and leadership never comes from those who have an aristocratic disdain for dirty jobs. This lad at Yale has indicted his own alma mater more severely than he has indicted the profession of politics.

THE SITUATION IN GERMANY—

While all the rejoicing about Von Hindenburg's re-election as president of Germany is going on, it is not safe to assume that all danger of a catastrophe in Germany is past simply because Hitler was badly outvoted.

After all, Hitler polled nearly 13,500,000 votes. Ernst Thaelmann, the Communist candidate, polled about 3,700,000. Each one of the votes cast for those two men represents a desperate, utterly despairing German citizen. Those desperate ones may be in a minority, but the minority is a tremendous one.

When more than 17,000,000 citizens in a nation like Germany can vote for a Fascist or a Communist, the pressure on the social structure must be terrific. The cries may be over, but the causes that produced it are still operating.

HOOVER'S OFFER—

President Hoover's offer to waive his constitutional right against a salary cut and become a dollar a year man indicates that he is thoroughly in earnest about the business of reducing government expenditures. It does not, however, represent anything very helpful in the way of a definite, workable plan.

In a government budget that runs in excess of four billions a year, a saving of $74,999 is not very large. Furthermore, the point of the whole matter is that something better than a simple reduction in salaries is needed. Few government employees can afford to give up their salaries entirely; but even if they took the heaviest reductions they could endure, the government's financial problem would still remain.

The times call for an extensive, logical program of retrenchment. Cutting the president's salary is not exactly the best way to begin.

KID GLOVES FOR GANGSTERS?—

Jack Guzik was Al Capone's right-hand man in the Chicago rackets for a long time. Recently the federal government laid him by the heels because he failed to pay any income tax, and the other day he was shipped off to Leavenworth penitentiary to serve a five-year sentence.

But he didn't go with the rest of the prisoners. Instead he got permission to pay his own expenses and the expenses of the federal guards who had him in custody; so he rode in another car, in real style, and wasn't soiled by contact with the lesser thugs and confidence men who were going to prison.

This, somehow, is apt to give the ordinary citizen an acute pain. Why should this man have been permitted extra privileges, even if he was able to pay for them himself? Are these Chicago gangsters such influential people that they must be handled with kid gloves even after they have been sentenced to prison?

COMPLETE FORCE READY TO COMBAT WOODS FIRES HERE

FIRE FIGHTERS IN FIELD; BURNING PERMITS NOW REQUIRED

The local forest ranger now has a full force of patrolmen in the field and ready to combat unauthorized fires.

The men are located at the following stations: E. H. Rhodes, ranger, city hall, Brainerd; Wm. F. Olson, assistant ranger, city hall, Brainerd; Scott Mitchell, mechanic and truck driver, Brainerd; Ingvald Kjera, towerman, Ahren's hill; Louis Hope, patrolman, Garrison; A. S. Koppenberg, patrolman, Emily; George E. Erickson, patrolman, Pequot; Harry McKee, patrolman, Oshawa; Vernon S. Pratt, patrolman, Ft. Ripley.

With the drying weather of the past few days, the tower lookout men will be placed on duty the first of next week and all fires will be investigated.

As conditions are becoming hazardous, everyone will be required to have a burning permit before starting any open fires, or have a freshly made fire break around the area in which the burning is to be done, sufficient to check the spread of fire.

Permits may be obtained from the district ranger, patrolman or township fire warden.

All unauthorized or unattended fires should be reported at once to the ranger, patrolman or township fire warden.

Township fire wardens have been appointed in each of the ninety-five townships in the Brainerd district and they have been instructed to be on the alert for unauthorized fires and to be prepared to combat them.

SCORE FORESTRY UNIT FOR METHODS

St. Paul—Four major lumber companies in northern Minnesota and more than a score of settlers Thursday charged the state forestry department with inefficiency in fire prevention work.

The charges made at the conservation commission meeting today demanded a "trial" of the forestry service by the commission. At this "trial" the commission was asked to air grievances and hear testimony as to how better protection can be afforded in fire prevention and fighting.

The charges grew out of the destruction of large areas in Lake of the Woods and Koochiching counties last September when forest fires swept the area.

The four companies making the charges were the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Co., the Blandin Paper Co., the Watab Paper Co., and the T. M. Partridge Lumber Co.

HOLDUP VICTIM IS NABBED IN LIQUOR POSSESSION CASE

THREE DEER CREEK YOUTHS SENTENCED, SAID THEY TOOK RUM, NOT MONEY

James Ringler, farmer near Staples, who last week explained he had been heldup and robbed of $36, has been arrested charged with possession of liquor on a counter complaint by three Deer Creek youths who when arrested asserted they did not take money from Ringler but "hi-jacked" him of liquor valued at $23.

The youth led officers to their cache of liquor which they arrestedly secured at the farm of John Ringler, south of Staples, brother of James. The youths claimed that after the liquor was in their car two of them pulled guns and drove away refusing to pay for it.

James Ringler pleaded not guilty to the charge of possession of liquor. The three Deer Creek youths were sentenced on pleas of guilty to assault in the second degree. Their sentences were: Ernest Buchan, 11 months in Stillwater penitentiary; Clifford Strommen, 13 months in the same penitentiary; Byron Wright, 14 months in St. Cloud reformatory, sentence suspended when it was apparent he did not take part in the actual holdup.

Brainerd Genealogists Honored by Institute

Mrs. Charles D. McKay, of 607 Holly street, and Mrs. J. M. Clark, of 1022 7th street, S., who have won local recognition for their work in genealogical and historical research, have been honored by being included in the list of the leading active genealogical researchers in the United States, in The Handbook of American Genealogy recently issued by The Institute of American Genealogy of Chicago.

Recognition in this field affords access to the extensive lineage files of The National Clearing House for genealogical information, as well as professional contact with genealogists in 1,331 counties throughout the United States and in 18 foreign countries, which will enable them to expand the scope of their work materially.

It will be of interest to the members and prospective members, and especially to the registrars of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Colonial Dames, and other hereditary-patriotic societies to learn that local residents have furnished these international contacts, because they will make possible the necessary genealogical research to qualify for membership without outside aid.

Reds Trounce Cubs 5-3; Pirates Upset Cards 5-4

GREAT HURLING BRINGS BROWNS, TIGERS VICTORIES

New York—The baseball microscope should be focused Friday upon Ebbets field where that question mark of the major leagues, the Brooklyn Dodgers, sought to puzzle the Boston Braves.

Prof. Carey maintains that Thursday's game was no test at all. The Dodgers go into the game with an advantage of two days of practice over the Bostonians who had no place to work out during two days of bad weather.

Meanwhile, the Cincinnati Reds are bounding along neck-and-neck with the champion St. Louis Cardinals to head those senior circuit teams playing ball during bad weather. Each has won two and lost one after Thursday's engagements in which the Reds walloped the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 3, and the Cards dropped a 5 to 4 decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Two former Dodgers, Wally Gilbert and Babe Herman, contributed a double and a triple, respectively, to help push across five runs in the first inning for Cincinnati, winning the game.

Contributing to Pittsburgh's victory, Paul Waner doubled in the ninth to score French with the winning run.

Tight pitching featured the only two games played in the American league. Sam Gray of the Browns held the White Sox to five hits as St. Louis blanked Chicago, 3 to 0, and Whitlow Wyatt hurled a four-hit game as his fellow Tigers beat the Cleveland Indians 3 to 1. Detroit found Willis Hudlin for seven safeties. Red Kress clinched the game for the Browns when he blasted a homer in the fifth, scoring Goslin.

Yesterday's hero: Red Kress of the St. Louis Browns, who drove out a homer in the fifth inning against the Chicago White Sox, scoring Goose Goslin, who had walked.

Amateur Golf Champ 20 Years Ago Try Comeback

Montclair, N. J.—Jerome D. Travers, who was the Bobby Jones of amateur golf 20 years ago, has been forced by the depression to abandon a business career temporarily and return to the game as a professional.

"Jerry" announced at his home here that he would play in several exhibition matches shortly and possibly make an exhibition tour. He emphasized he would not become a pro at any club, he was setting out merely as "a business-man golfer."

He has been out of important tourney play since 1919 when he was eliminated in the first round of the amateur championship at Oakland. He won the amateur championships in 1907, 1908, 1912 and 1913, and was runner-up to Francis Ouimet in 1914. He won the open championship in 1915.

Consider Applications Licenses Next Tuesday

Chicago—License applications of trainers, jockeys and apprentices will be considered at a meeting of the license committee of the Illinois Turf Association next Tuesday.

The first skirmish in the anticipated turf war caused by the invasion of the half-mile track in Cicero is expected at the meeting. Sportsman's park, a former dog track converted into a half mile racetrack, is not a member of the Illinois turf body and will attempt to run competition to Aurora, a member track.

The Illinois body is aligned with the New York Jockey Club which has declared a ban against a certain class of half-mile tracks.

Miss Wethered Heads Britain's Golf Team

London—Miss Joyce Wethered, Great Britain's foremost woman golfer, will emerge from nearly two years' retirement to captain a British team against the United States in the first of a series of official annual team matches between the two nations.

The first match opens at Wentworth, Surrey, May 21, and as the other matches follow each year they are expected to provide a counterpart to the Walker Cup contests between male amateurs of the United States and Great Britain.

Stadium Dickers for Petrolle-Bat Battle

Chicago—The Chicago stadium is dickering for a return bout between Billy Petrolle and Christopher (Bat) Battalino for May 18 but has been unable to come to terms with Battalino. In their first bout in Madison Square Garden last month, Petrolle won on a technical knockout in the twelfth round but Matchmaker Nate Lewis, who saw the bout, believes that Battalino's showing, despite a bad cut across his nose, entitles him to a return bout.

SAINTS SWAMPED BY LOUISVILLE; KELS BOW 4 TO 2

By United Press
Delayed two days by cold weather, Kansas City and Columbus finally got off on their opening game in the American association race Thursday. In the free-hitting eleven-inning game the Blues edged out an 8 to 7 victory over the Red Birds. Columbus touched three Kansas City pitchers for 17 hits while the Blues gathered 15 off as many opposition hurlers.

Louisville swamped St. Paul under a barrage of 12 hits and 12 runs while the Saints were unable to realize a score on their 7 safeties. McKain went the route for the Colonels and had the situation well in hand all the way.

Milwaukee played errorless ball to take a 5 to 4 victory from Toledo. Three pitchers for the Mudhens were unable to keep pace with Hillen of Milwaukee.

In the only errorless game of the day Indianapolis downed Minneapolis, 4 to 2. Each team used two pitchers.

Mastro to Abandon Boxing Profession

Sacramento, Calif.—Earl Mastro, whose ring prowess won him fame as "The Chicago Whirlwind," abandoned his career Friday after a disastrous beating at the hands of Viasar Milling, Los Angeles Philino.

Fear of blindness was Mastro's reason for quitting the squared circle. The same fear led him to withdraw abruptly in the ninth round last night as Milling rained blows on him from every angle.

"Ever since I fought Bat Battalino my eyes have troubled me," Mastro said. "I couldn't see clearly last night. If I ever met another first class fighter I'm afraid I would lose my sight."

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORE

Federal Specification Gasoline is Placed on Commercial Sale Here

A new gasoline, produced according to government specifications for use in ambulances, fire-engines and other emergency vehicles, was on retail sale here Friday.

Announcement of the new fuel was made by local officials of The Texas Company who said the product, to be known as Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline, would replace the original "dry gasoline" introduced by them in 1926. The new gasoline sells at no extra cost.

"The original 'dry gasoline'," The Texas Company announcement said, "was a revolutionary step forward in the development of motor fuels. Motorists were quick to recognize its properties: Easy starting, snap by acceleration, maintenance of power, freedom from crankcase dilution, complete combustion, greater mileage and high anti-knock rating."

The new "Fire-Chief" gasoline is being sold in this vicinity by the following dealers: J. C. Thompson, A. L. Swanson, William Cossette, Art Lyons, Oscar Nelson.

Warmer Weather Aids In Improving Roads

Warmer weather and a drying wind has helped to improve the condition of the roads in the southern and central parts of the state, and although some of the load restrictions have been lifted in the southern section, new restrictions have been put in effect in the northern section. Gravel roads in the northern part of the state are becoming soft and are in poor condition generally. Rain will cause a number of these roads to become poor or impassable.

Load restrictions and other unusual conditions are reported on the following routes in the Brainerd area, the weight stated being the maximum weight of vehicle with load:

T. H. No. 2—Carlton to Lansford, poor, practically impassable at Cromwell. Cromwell-poor-McGregor, 3 tons; Aitkin to Brainerd, new grade, poor; Brainerd to Frazee, 2½ tons.

Blue-Eyed Leader of Red Army

Galen Glucher

Galen Glucher is the blue-eyed, blond Russian commander-in-chief of the Red army on that explosive Manchurian-Mongolian Far Eastern border who is said to know all about "the ways of the Orient."

Less than 40, Galen Glucher has at various times successfully performed difficult jobs of soldiering for the Soviets.

In 1923, when the Communists were interested in helping the Chinese Nationalist revolution, Galen Glucher was sent to Canton, where he organized in little more than a year the first Cantonese revolutionary army whose "horses drank in the Yangtze," a feat that the late Sun Yat-sen failed to accomplish in some 30 years.

Germanic, rather than Slavic in appearance, it is said that he was born in the German colony on the Volga, of German parentage.
